THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Happy Holidays!

I don't know about you but I can't believe we are in the last month of 2021-this year has flown by! Maybe it was the numerous, yet short USTA seasons that kept us busy!

We have two WCRC Leagues happening right now, Winter Doubles and WING Singles. It's great to see matches being played-despite the cold weather.

With the 2021 USTA season winding down our combo teams did well despite the fact that USTA wasn't hosting any post season this year. With less than a week left in the season, congratulations to the following combo teams (and their current rankings):

7.5 Combo Women Daytime

1st - Myrl Kan
2nd - Stacey Blackman

6.5 Combo Men

2nd - Patrick Forden

7.5 Combo Men

2nd - Tammie Snyder

5.5 Combo Women

1st - Cara Mia Barnacascel

7.5 Combo Women

1st - Tammie Snyder
2nd - Lisa Italia

8.5 Combo Women

2nd - Tina Sorensen

Check out our tribute to Irv Pearlstein on page 6.

I wish you a joyous Holiday season and see you on the courts!

Member Spotlight

Garvin Tom

For the Joy of the Game!

Interview and article by Ian McLaughlin

As an effort to get to know our membership the Board has decided to start a new monthly column "Member Spotlight". We will be interviewing WCRC members and getting to know them. This article will help us find out how they got introduced to tennis, their background, any favorite memories, etc. We hope you enjoy this new commentary.

If you've spent any time at Heather Farm Tennis Center, chances are you've seen Garvin Tom because he's a fixture at the club. And if you've seen him there, he was probably laughing and smiling, as few people have as much fun or get as much joy from the game of tennis as Garvin does. In fact, "G Money" recently achieved an epic milestone by playing in his 500th career USTA match, a feat very few have accomplished, which is a testament to both his skill and his passion for the game. As he does with everything, Garvin handled the achievement with humility and a broad smile.

Garvin's philosophy about tennis is simply "have fun! Don't take it too seriously, it's a sport you can play and enjoy for the rest of your life."

Garvin was born and raised in "the 209," the city of Stockton, which is famously also the hometown of former A's pitcher Dallas Braden. He calls his upbringing in Stockton "fairly typical," and because the city was rapidly growing during his childhood in the 1980's, Garvin and his friends were able to spend a lot of time exploring and playing on the heavy equipment at the many construction sites around town, the types of activities he thinks the current generation of kids is sadly missing out on. Although he now lives in Martinez, Garvin retains strong ties to Stockton, where his working class parents and older brother Sheldon still live.

Garvin wasn't always the tennis star he is now. He started playing the game with friends in middle school, then decided to try out for his high school tennis team. He made varsity his sophomore year, while also taking lessons at a private club. During his college days at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo it was just recreational tennis with buddies for Garvin, and after graduation his busy work schedule and lengthy commute from Antioch (where he lived with his sister Terelyn) to Milpitas left Garvin little time for tennis. Eventually he found time to return to the game, and around 2003 or 2004 he joined a USTA team in Oakley at Freedom High School. Garvin made the move to Heather Farm because his mixed doubles partner at Freedom High knew Tammie Snyder, who he considers the unofficial "mayor of Heather Farm." When Garvin played his 500th USTA match, unbeknownst to him, Tammie had covertly invited a huge crowd of his friends and supporters out to the home match.

Garvin plays A LOT of tennis, but when he's not on the court he's busy in his job as an operations analyst for a medium size company that markets protein shakes for various well-known labels, drawing on his previous experience working for Muscle Milk for seven years. (ironically Garvin doesn't actually like protein shakes due to the texture, which is the same reason he doesn't care for milkshakes, making him one of the rare people in the world who doesn't like milkshakes.) Garvin also enjoys testing craft beers and cooking, especially grilling and barbecuing, which is his forte (a regular grill master, G can, and will, grill just about anything from oysters to ribs and everything in between.)

More than anything, Garvin wanted to express how blessed he feels to be part of the Heather Farm tennis community, which he considers his "second family." I know many of us feel the same.

We'd like to introduce our new Spotlight Interviewer Ian McLaughlin...

Ian McLaughlin was a longtime WCRC member who played on several teams prior to having to put down his racket when he suffered a series of debilitating strokes in 2016 that rendered him severely and permanently disabled.

He now works full time on his stroke recovery and blogs about his experience from the perspective as a husband and father of two boys. His goal is to try and get out on a pickleball court in the next decade.

Irv Pearlstein

by Nat Bitton

It was over twenty years ago that I first met Irv at Heather Farm. He was there with the great Chris Ramsower; they had only met a short time ago and Irv had virtually never played tennis. Twenty five minutes later he was president of the Walnut Creek Racquet Club. These words sum up this incredible friend of mine and friend to so many others at the "Farm".

I never met anyone in my life who had Irv's enthusiasm, his energy, his love of life and helping those around him to enjoy their lives more. Sunday mornings with Irv, Chris and others at The Sweet Affair (for coffee sweet rolls and lies) were a high spot of my week, even if some of the lies were exposed on the courts shortly thereafter.

We had so many good times together at Heather and at our homes but most importantly, he was always someone that you could count on to have your back. He was such a good travel companion as well. Whether it was to Boulder Creek, Indian Wells, Italy, France or England. Those adventures, in cottages, homes or villas (rented sight unseen, before it became the vogue to do this) were always so enhanced by his exuberant presence. There was only one place where he was not in his element narrow English country lanes, where he earned the nickname "Weed Whacker", that stayed with him right to the end.

Irv lived in many different places but it was in Walnut Creek where he left the largest footprint. We were so lucky to have our lives enhanced by this force of nature.

Irwin (Sonny) Pearlstein.

May his memory be a blessing.

Team NorCal Huck reaches back-to-back Finals at 10.0 Mixed Nationals

By Johanna Huck

When Patrick and I first registered a 10.0 Mixed team in 2018, we would have never imagined for it to become so successful. After a couple of seasons trying to gain a foothold in other 10.0 Mixed teams, Patrick decided to run his own team. With his gift for finding and recruiting talented high-level players, we quickly established a solid roster. We lost in the playoffs that year but knew we gathered a great group of players (especially 5.0 women). Trying to keep the momentum going, we followed up with another 10.0 Mixed team in 2019, this time out of Memorial Park in Albany.

We went 8-0 during the regular 2019 season but didn't have any expectations after an early loss at Sectionals. One of the opposing captains caught us by surprise when he came over to congratulate us for making Nationals. Turns out we won all the tiebreakers that mattered. We had a blast at the 2019 Mixed National Championships at the USTA National Campus in Orlando. Playing in Florida wasn't easy: start times of 7.30 AM local time followed by heat and humidity required some adjustments. We went 4-0 in the round robin, beating Texas and New England along the way. Luck helped us out a little in the Semifinals when the opposing 5.5 man missed an easy put-away volley on match point in the super tiebreak of the deciding line. Only a ringer Eastern team was able to stop our run in the Final.

After the mandatory COVID break last year we were ready to try it again in 2021. This time we went in with the specific goal in mind to compete at Nationals again! Due to the small number of registered teams and their widespread homecourt locations, USTA NorCal decided to skip a local league and instead let all 6 teams duke it out at Sectionals.

We started with our 2019 contenders Patrick Huck, Jennifer Kung, Alison Rauh, Trina Slapeka, and Elena Pan and added Kaz Negishi, Alex Groth (no he's not related to Sam Groth, similar bomb first serve, though), Daniel

Brandt, Milind Badhe, as well as Jillian Santos and Pooja Deshmukh. We ran regular weekend practices in San Francisco, always going in with a list for a variety of pairings and matchups. Post-practice dinners strengthened camaraderie and trust in the team. When Sectionals came around we were ready for action.

Only 4 matches were scheduled at Sectionals which took some maneuvering to ensure enough players end up qualified for Nationals. We also had to share four players with Dan Brandt's 9.0 team that was heading to Sectionals as well. Luckily we were all playing at the same location in Laguna Creek. So before even hitting the road to Sacramento, we made a plan that would accommodate and hopefully get both the 10.0 & 9.0 teams to Nationals.

Some players had to play 3 matches a day, we had to take some chances playing Semis without some key players, and unfortunately, we knew we wouldn't be able to qualify everyone.

In our first and only match on Friday against Mission Hills, Jillian and Kaz pulled out the 2-1 win in a super tiebreak nailbiter 14-12. Our second flight match was against Tiberon Peninsula Club. We luckily already made the Semifinals at that point but still managed to squeeze out a 2-1 win which meant we'd be facing Orinda Country Club next. The 9.0 team was scheduled to play their Semifinals before our match and then their potential Final right after. We were confident in the deep team we recruited despite knowing that we'll be facing the two Cardiff brothers (both members of the NorCal 5.0 team that made it to Nationals this year) and Tyler Browne (an exceptional 5.5 player). It paid off and we earned another 2-1 win in all straight sets. For the Final against Bay Club Courtside, Jen & Kaz rotated back into the lineup to qualify for Nationals. They got off the court after securing the 9.0 team their Nationals ticket just in time to battle through another nerve-wracking Final. Jillian & Kaz got us the first win by prevailing in another super tiebreak. Trina & Alex got incredibly close to outright clinching it for us but ended up unlucky in a tight super tiebreak. It all came down to Jen & Patrick. They got off to a good start winning the first set. In the second set, their opponents picked up their game and forced them to a set tiebreak which Jen & Patrick carried over the finish line routinely. Patrick played all four 10.0 Mixed matches that weekend and didn't lose a single one. We drove back home to the Bay Area exhausted and nothing but smiles on our faces.

Preparing for Nationals was another heavy lift. Finding the right house with enough beds for everyone to be comfortable, coordinating all flights and car arrangements (hello minivans), and ordering the T-Shirts was a lot to get done in just four weeks. Since our 2019 shirts were such a success and a lucky charm we decided to go with the same design in the new color Carolina Blue to represent the NorCal Section at the Color Wars. We were positively surprised when both the 9.0 and 7.0 NorCal Mixed teams asked us to get the same shirts. Long story short we ordered 83 shirts for 3 teams.

When the big day finally arrived we couldn't wait to get there. A rocky start awaited us upon arrival in Surprise, Arizona: our house reservation had been unexpectedly canceled leaving 10 people stranded at the airport without accommodations. The entire team pulled together to search for a new place while Patrick was on the phone coordinating with Airbnb. In the end, we found an amazing house that satisfied all of our needs and even had a room filled with Arcade games, foosball and pool table, and of course a pool/jacuzzi. Unfortunately, we didn't get to use any of these since we were too busy playing tennis (and cheering in my case). Our final practice at the Surprise Tennis Complex went well. We got a chance to get used to the courts and adjust to the conditions (the air is noticeably thinner there), while the cheering, non-playing squad (Elena Pan, Mai Nguyen, and I) went to Costco to get the essentials for the house.

In our first match on Friday in the early afternoon, we faced the team from Pacific North West. We started off well, winning the first sets in line 1 & 3. One of our players started visibly struggling with the Arizona heat but battled on all the way through the super tiebreak. Only a couple of points separated that line from the miracle win given the conditions. Losing our first match was definitely a wake-up call and we made sure to enter the courts at night ready to redeem ourselves against the Florida section. We shuffled our lines and almost pulled out the sweep. By the end of this day, I was starting to lose my voice after all this cheering and yelling. At night, back in the house, we started discussing the scouting reports and strategizing how to best win both matches on Saturday. We knew we needed to beat the so far undefeated Eastern section to keep our chances alive for advancing to the Semis. Their team traveled with only 6 players to Arizona and their line 1 pairing was a very strong 5.5 man with a highly underrated 4.5 woman. We researched every player on UTR and decided the lineup based on our preferred matchups.

We nailed it!. Ali & Patrick played against the 4.5/5.5 combo on line 1 and while unfortunately outmatched, they were able to gather valuable intel for the final. The other two lines were highly competitive. Jillian & Kaz were second off the court winning in a super tiebreak against a very strong 5.0 woman and her partner. Jen & Dan faced their captain and her partner who Dan knew from his time at the Olympic Club team a few years back. The insider info almost helped our pair to finish the match in straight sets but as it sometimes goes in tennis, the momentum shifted and they ended up clinching the win with a clean super tiebreak. An exhilarating and confidence-building win, for sure.

Missouri Valley was our last opponent during the round robin stage. We faced this team before at the 2019 National Championships and some of their players and pairings were the same. We wanted to make sure to lock in the highest possible spot in the top four with five teams still in contention for the semis. With the win against Eastern under our belt, we showed up strong and swept 3-0, winning all three lines in straight sets without a single tiebreaker. The atmosphere was fantastic and almost every spectator around our courts was cheering for us. The entire NorCal 6.0 Mixed team from the TPC Stonebrae Country Club coached by Josh Bernstein came over after their last match (about 20 people) and started rooting for us. Undoubtedly, one of the most memorable experiences from our nationals trip.

Back at home, another team session with our special SoCal friend Ron Kao helped us feel confident with our lineups for the match next morning. As the first match on, we were finally able to warm up on site and definitely didn't expect the 6.0 NorCal team to show up at 8 AM, but they did and we couldn't have been happier and more grateful for their support. In line 1, Trina & Alex faced a 5.5W/4.5M combo rendering Alex's serve and Trina's solid baseline game a little less impactful than usual. It came down to the other two lines. Jillian & Kaz recovered from a slow start in set 1 and finished strong in the super tiebreak. Jen & Patrick found themselves in the deciding line and had dominated the first set with a smart game plan. Their opponents raised their level, a few chances to pull away went unused, and a second set tiebreak was needed to decide the match. In one rally, Patrick had to hit 10 overheads to eventually win the point with a put-away volley. My heart was racing, I was so nervous. They ended up winning their line 13-11 on their 6th matchpoint taking NorCal to the 10.0 Mixed National Final.

During the break between Semis and Final, we gathered on site for strategy sessions and food. Several passersby encouraged us "to beat those Eastern guys". I guess we were the fan favorites just like in 2019. Oh, and how close we got! Ali & Dan almost pulled out the upset against the ringer 4.5/5.5 pair in line 1 with a 5-7, 4-6 score. Jillian & Kaz faced the tough lefty-righty combo who knew to use the sun to their advantage. Battling hard, our team was able to split sets with a strong second set. But this time, the momentum didn't quite carry over into the super tiebreak and a couple of unlucky points went for Eastern to clinch the championship (3-6, 6-1, 0-1). Despite not being the deciding line again, Jen & Patrick fought for NorCal and expertly outplayed their opponents in the super tiebreak to avoid the sweep with a 4-6, 6-3, 1-0 win.

It was an honor to represent NorCal at Nationals 2021, competing against the top 10 teams in the country out of 29 teams total. With a total of 21,743 Mixed players in the US in 2021, we assembled a roster of 8 players that can call itself among the best in the nation. All in all, we had a fantastic time at Nationals with an amazing group of people, made new friends and unforgettable memories. We can't wait to try it again in 2022 - our team is already registered, of course.
