THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Happy July!

PET PEEVES! We all have them. Some bug us more than others. I know I have several; more than what can fit into one column, so this may be a two-parter. LOL! Let me start out with these:

LONG WARM-UPS. Now I'm talking about the warm-up with your opponent for a USTA match. That really should only take 5-10 minutes; even 15 minutes would be acceptable. But often I will see players taking 20 or even 30 minutes warming up with their opponent, and that can lead to matches not being finished in the allotted time. If you need a longer warm-up, just show up early before the match to warm up with your team. If there aren't any warm-up courts, you can arrange to warm up offsite or you can start hitting against the wall. If you go watch a pro tournament, the players are allowed five minutes to warm up, and if you play in Sectionals, they also only allow you five minutes to warm up.

RETURNING SERVES DURING WARM-UP. This one is an offshoot of long warm-ups. For those who don't know, returning your opponent's serve during warm-up is poor etiquette, yet I see it often. It disrupts the server's rhythm if they chase down an errant return, and it also leads to a longer warm-up. If my opponent is returning my serves, then I assume that they don't need to serve, so I'll continue to serve myself. I'll also even deliberately hit my serves long, so they'll have a hard time returning.

ALLOWING BALLS TO GO INTO AN ADJACENT COURT. Hey, it happens. Balls bounce or are hit from the next court all the time. It's just part of the experience at playing at Heather or other public parks. But there are times where I see players watch a ball roll a few feet past them and into the next court. Um...how about making a little effort there, bud? Is it really that hard for you to take a step or two, reach out with your racquet, and stopping the ball before it rolls onto my court while I'm in the middle of a point?

Well, those are a few of mine. I might have more in the future. What are yours? Let me know in the comments section, and don't forget to smash that 'Subscribe' button if you like this channel. Just kidding; I've been watching a lot of YouTube lately.

See you on the courts!

Finding “What My Soul Needed” at WCRC

Kim Caison

Interview and article by Ian McLaughlin

W CRC member Kim Caison only took up the sport of tennis relatively late in her life, but during her short playing career she has already been a member of a USTA team that has gone to Nationals twice and has enjoyed tremendous success on the court. More importantly, when she joined the tennis community at Walnut Creek Racquet Club, she says the hallmark family-like camaraderie of the tennis community at Heather Farm provided “just what my soul needed.”

Although a late comer to tennis, Kim is an East Bay local and a lifelong competitive athlete who was all-league in basketball, volleyball, and softball at San Leandro High School in her hometown.

In her early middle age, one of her close friends who is a WCRC member, Cynthia Granicher, invited Kim out to watch one of her mixed matches, and with her athletic background, Kim was intrigued by the unfamiliar sport. At that time, which Kim describes as a “rough patch” of her life, she was looking for something different that would provide a new distraction and improve her fitness so she decided to give the new sport a try because it looked like so much fun as well. Since she was living in Livermore at the time, Kim began her playing career mainly by taking classes with Lifetime Activities in Pleasanton. Although she began only by taking classes, Kim took to the game quickly and soon began playing competitively in USTA leagues out of Pleasanton after self rating as a 3.0 player. Kim's first USTA match was with Carolyn Spady's 6.5 Combo out of Walnut Creek because she got to partner with Cynthia. Mixed league tennis was her initial foray after watching that first match with Cynthia's mixed team, and in her very first year of competitive tennis, Kim went to Nationals with the 6.0 mixed team she joined in Pleasanton where she had been taking lessons. So, aside from enjoying the new game, Kim clearly had the athletic skills necessary to compete at a high level and joined several USTA teams throughout Contra Costa County, mainly in the tri valley area initially.

Because she remained close with Cynthia, who was a member of WCRC and had introduced her to the sport, Kim eventually started playing more frequently at Heather Farm, and like so many club players, her introduction to the Heather Farm tennis community came via Tammie Snyder's famously huge Monday night practice sessions. A lot of players cite the inclusive and welcoming tennis community at Heather Farm as their favorite aspect of the club, but to Kim the camaraderie felt more like a family, and says that it was "just what my soul needed" at the time.

Now a 4.0 player with extensive USTA league experience, Kim regularly socializes with her teammates off the court as well, often holding dinners or game nights with her friends/teammates. What she enjoys most about the club is the family-like atmosphere and the close connections she has made with everyone at the club from her teammates to the office staff. When she learned that beloved office staffer Ciara Mendoza really enjoyed one of her casseroles, for example, she started making a casserole for Ciara on her birthday each year. But mostly she enjoys being part of the group, and calls herself "the ultimate cheerleader", who spends a lot of time at Heather Farm simply because she enjoys watching good quality tennis, in addition to playing good quality tennis herself. To Kim, the Heather Farm tennis community truly is like a family, and that's saying a lot because Kim has a large, extended family of blood relatives, including her brother who lives in Castro Valley and thirteen (13!) nieces, nephews, and grand nieces and grand nephews, all of whom she sees regularly. Kim's favorite off-court activities are all outdoors as well, from riding her electric bike to hiking and exploring the beautiful open spaces that our community offers. When she's in the mood for a less active pastime, Kim loves to gamble at Indian casinos throughout the area (slots, baccarat, and poker are her games choice), and she does all of these activities with her large family as well.

Kim is still working as a self-described "food cop", which is more formally known as a registered environmental health specialist.

She works for the Department of Environmental Health for Alameda County, mainly inspecting restaurants and pools throughout Alameda County to ensure compliance with health codes. In the 36 years she's been on the job Kim has seen it all from rats to cockroaches and every species in between, but says the majority of the restaurants she inspects are code compliant. The biggest issue that has arisen during her long career is the proliferation of illegal "pop up" food vendors that are not brick and mortar establishments and therefore more difficult to regulate because they're mobile, difficult to locate consistently, and often span different jurisdictions. Kim plans to hang up her badge and finally retire in September after 36 years on the job.

As the cornerstone of her personal philosophy, Kim feels the need to give back to the community and is constantly looking for ways to do so. She spent several years caretaking for her parents in San Leandro when they were ill, for example, and once she retires and has more free time, one of her plans is to take in more rescue animals, mainly dogs. (Kim had two mini dachshunds who are now gone, and taking in abandoned animals is another way for Kim to give back to her community.)

Also on Kim's "bucket list" once she retires is to travel to watch the pros play, with the U.S. Open in New York as her first dream destination. Now that tennis has entered her soul and she just "enjoys watching good tennis", this "ultimate cheerleader" wants to watch it played at the highest level. ▲

Jeff Forbes

Congratulations to Jeff Forbes — RSPA NorCal Pro of the Year!

We're thrilled to share that Walnut Creek's own Jeff Forbes was awarded Pro of the Year by the Racquet Sports Professionals Association (RSPA, formerly USPTA) at their Northern California division conference held at Alpine Hills Tennis Club on May 31st. From his start as a WCRC member and player to his current role as Walnut Creek's Managing Director, Jeff's journey has been defined by thoughtfulness, positivity, and an unwavering commitment to community and racquet sports. This award is testament to Jeff's intentional leadership, dedication to wellness, focus on cultivating strong, lasting relationships within the Walnut Creek community, and passion for growing the game. Jeff is the third Lifetime Director in a row to receive this award: San Francisco's Joe Noth (former Director in WC) and Sunnyvale's Mark Roberts were recipients of this award in 2023 and 2024 respectively. We're extremely proud to have Jeff recognized by the RSPA for his contributions. Thank you Jeff for leading our Walnut Creek team and sharing your time and talents with all of us.

– Isabella Feinberg, Chief Operating Officer, Lifetime Activities Inc.

55+ 8.0 Playoffs

The 55+ 8.0 Women's team had a first round match against Round Hills Champagne Gang. The matches were super close with WCRC barely edging out Round Hill. The second round team had to default so Tammie Snyder and Heidi Belton's team got to advance to Sectionals.

55+ 7.0 Playoffs

The 55+ 7.0 Women's team had two rounds of playoffs to get to sectionals. The first round was against Moraga Country Club. We won the match 2-1. Our flight had a wild card but we decided to play the second round against Round Hill's undefeated 10-0 team. We played them early on Father's Day and snuck out the win 2-1. We had 5 of 6 totally new players play the second round and it was a testament how deep our team is! Looking forward to heading to Sectionals with the 8.0 women's team July 10-12th at Diamond Hills.

Round 1 vs Moraga: Nga Gross, Kim Caison, Tammie Snyder, Justin Snyder, Tami Lightle, Mel Bach, Pru Pruden, Heidi Belton, Angela Schmidt, Sandra Harris, Michelle Cooke & Stephanie Law.

WING Singles - Tournament

Hi Players,

A big thank you to everyone who participated in the 2024/2025 WING Singles season! It has been my pleasure to serve as your league coordinator, and I look forward to seeing you again next season, which will begin in late October.

Although the season has ended, tennis doesn't have to stop! You can continue using our online communication tools to arrange recreational matches at any time. And of course, I hope you've already signed up for the ever-popular Summer Singles.

Congratulations to our division champions and finalists!

You can view the results of each match in the tournament by visiting your division's standings page. Look for the "View Tournament Draw" link in the upper right-hand corner of the page.

Thanks again for the great season. I hope to see you on court soon!

Calcutta!

Thank you to everyone who put in their hard work to make this very special event so amazing. This tournament and party takes a lot of work behind the scenes to come off so flawlessly. I would like to thank the following people personally for their assistance...

Our amazing board who helped handicap this event: Garvin Tom, Cara Mia Barnacascel, Pam Maloney, Rebecca Kay, Heid Belton and Dave Wong. Thanks to those who organized, picked up and/or ordered all the food, gift cards and alcohol for the party and the tournament: Dave, Logan, Rebecca, Cara Mia, Jennifer Grant and Markstein Sales for their amazing alcohol donation. Sally rehired our awesome taco truck which was once again delicious food! Great job Sally!!!

Thank you to everyone who helped set up and clean up at the party: Cara Mia, Justin Snyder, Logan Snyder, Steve Lehmer, Dave Wong, Mary Soe, Glenn McBee, Sally Krapf and Garvin Tom.

Thanks to Logan Snyder for his bartending skills! I enjoyed emceeing this year with humor and some downright harassing. We had a nice result in our auction with a total of $ 4,444!

Once again we woke up to wet courts this year was completely caught off guard. I'd like to thank Hannah Nuri who got into the office early and began drying very wet courts.

Thanks to those who help set up Saturday morning drying courts, as well as throughout the day filling up coolers, rotating food, and breaking down and clean up after the tournament: Chris Dundon, Nancy Deschane, Cara Mia Barnacascel, Christine Hohenstein, Dave Wong, Justin Snyder, Logan Snyder, Charlie Deschane, Christian Joos, Marianne Dundon, Bob Satcher, Mary Soe, Garvin Tom, Sally Krapf, Glenn McBee. It's no joke how many people it takes make this tournament run smoothly.

Thank you to everyone who donated to the Ygnacio Valley High School Tennis Program. Coach Kimmel Sadat graciously brought all of our donations to the much needed club!

Thanks to Bob Satcher who once again caught all the auction action as well as everyone playing in the tournament the following day.

Additionally, I'd like to thank all the participants who played with integrity and fairness throughout the event. Without you guys we would not have a tournament. Thank you to all the players who stepped up to score keep as you know it is a necessity.

Congratulations to our raffle winners: Friday night: Irina Chase, Ro Kim, Pru Pruden, Mary Soe, Mark Cameron and Kyle Lofquist. Saturday winners: Chris Dundon, Byron Bardy, Kim Caison, Keith Edwards, Max Njelita.

Thanks to Logan Snyder the tournament director, all those years growing up on the courts have paid off and now he can run a very complicated tournament smoothly and even caught up when we were delayed in the beginning by wet courts. You're the bomb Logan! Thanks to Sally who stepped in to help out with team announcements to keep everyone on track.

We had quite a lot of new faces this year and from what I heard from the feedback, everyone had a great time. We had 20 matches decided by 5 points or less and 7 matches decided by a single point! The team of Brigitte Shaw and Scott Judy were down 19-30 against Deanna Tanner and Reid Cooper and they came back to win 12 match points in a row to take the match 31-30. That's INCREDIBLE!!

We look forward to another successful Calcutta next spring. Thank you for participating!

Winners

Main Draw:

Akhila Athresh made a smart investment and bought her husband Sidd Nigham/Jessica Rudd for $50. Sidd and Jessica won the main draw bringing in $1,466 to Akhila while Jessica and Sidd split $399.

Jessica and Sidd edged out Valerie Epting and Kevin Kyono 31-27 in the finals. Kevin and his crew, of course, bought himself after a long drawn-out bidding frenzy. Their $200 investment paid out $888. While Valerie and Kevin split $311.

Consolation Draw:

Pru Pruden and her consortium of 6, bought the consolation winners Dana Andrew and David Resnick-Dunn for $90 and took home $660. Dana and David split $311.

Dana and David (+9 handicap) defeated Olga Ivanova and Glenn McBee (who had a +10 handicap) 31-24 in the finals. For their effort Olga and Glenn split $133 while Mark Chase won $311 for buying Olga and Glenn for $60.
