THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Not only is it the time of the month when I must "compose my thoughts" and write my report, but it is also the time of the year when we prepare to say goodbye to the old year and to start ushering in the new year, and to think back on the year that has almost disappeared into the sands of time (WOW a literary bent or what?)

Gabe Goldstein
2005 WCRC President

Firstly a word of congratulations to Marty Riffel's 3.0 senior ladies for going all the way to Nationals. From what I have heard you had a lot of fun, but also ran into some very tough opponents, who got in the way of your achieving the ultimate success at Nationals. Well done to all of you – you have achieved something that many of us have yet to do!!!

I am happy to be able to announce to you that Shari Gonzales, our Website guru has graciously agreed to be President for 2006. Shari has been on the Board for a number of years, and, under her skillful leadership our website has become something that we can all be very proud of, and which is the envy of many other volunteer organizations. The Board leadership is in very good hands for 2006. All of the very best to you, Shari!!

Being President brought lots of challenges to me, but it has also confirmed to me what I already have known for the years that I have served on this Board, namely what a talented, competent, caring, energetic and committed set of colleagues I have on the Board.

It has been my privilege to work with all of the Board members, to enjoy the work we did together and the laughs that we shared. A great big thank you to all of you for helping to make my job easy and enjoyable.

I am also happy to say that a large number of the Board members will be remaining on the Board for 2006, but we would love to see some new faces for 2006, so, lets hear from you!!

Don Loeffler reports that the Turkey Tournament went off very well and was enjoyed by all. A big thank you to Don and his helpers, Carolyn Spady and Arlene Acosta.

The next big event is the Awards Night/Casino Banquet on January 20, 2006. A fun-filled event is being planned, with good food, some beverages?? And more gaming tables than last year. So.... Make a great big note on your calendar to ensure that you and as many of your friends, spouses and significant others join us for a great evening of fun and laughs

See y'all on the courts.....Soon

From the Pro . . .

Last week I was in Golfsmith, the place that used to be called Don Sherwoods, I was looking over new racquets, talking with Denny and of course, picking on Leonard! For those of you who don't know the place or the people mentioned above, you should hang around the pro shop more often--it would be good to see some new faces with all of the rain. Anyway, I ended up in a conversation with a guy about how he hits his forehand. He had a demo and proceeded to show me how he's been practicing his open-stance (pro-style) technique. Unfortunately, he was using a continental grip. It doesn't matter if you don't know that the continental grip opens the racquet face, and that trying to hit an open-stance forehand with this grip would probably put you in the same league with Barry Bonds, because you can definitely get the ball over the fence this way. What should matter is that you're aware of the grips you use and what their intended purposes are. This got me thinking, (uh-oh, means I'm gonna lose more hair), how many people are doing just what the above mentioned person is doing? Attempting to perform a certain technique or stroke, while using the wrong grip? We all know of at least one person who hits a terrific stroke using the wrong grip they developed when they had carpal tunnel. Yup, and this is the same person using their right foot for the gas and their left foot for the brake, wondering why car maker's put the pedals so close together? So here's my attempt, without an excel slide-show, at helping you find and understand the basic grips used by most club players.

For the Forehand; place the racquet on the ground with the bottom of the handle facing you, pick it up at the bottom of the handle and make no adjustments, you're now holding the Semi-western grip or something like it. This keeps the racquet face slightly closed or level, and it's good for FOREHANDS!

For the one handed Backhand; hold your forehand grip and place the head of the racquet underneath the arm-pit of your other arm. Make sure the racquet handle is sticking out in front of you not down at your side. Rotate your hand left or right until your wrist and hand are flat, this is the Eastern backhand grip, and it's good for ONE HANDED BACKHANDS!

For the two handed Backhand; while holding your racquet with your forehand, turn the racquet in your hand to the point where you're holding it somewhere between the forehand and backhand grips. Add your opposite hand next to but not on top of your other hand, they should touch. This is the Continental grip or something like it, and it's good for TWO HANDED BACKHANDS.

Due to a limited amount of hair, enough already! Just don't try hitting Andy Roddick forehands with Jack Kramer grips and you'll have a better chance of doing what where all trying to do--get it in.

Walnut Creek Racquet Club

Annual Fundraising Drive

The Walnut Creek Racquet Club, a local non-profit organization, is holding its annual Awards Banquet and Fundraising event this January. Every year the WCRC hosts an annual banquet and donates a portion of proceeds to a local youth tennis program. I am contacting you on behalf of the Walnut Creek Racquet Club fund raising team to request your support in the form of a tax-deductible donation.

For those of you who are not familiar with our organization, the Walnut Creek Racquet Club (WCRC) was founded in 1969 as a public courts tennis club and is sponsored by the City of Walnut Creek. WCRC is one of the largest and most active public court tennis clubs in Northern California. The club's purpose is to promote the game of tennis in Walnut Creek by providing a wide variety of tennis activities including league play, tournaments, clinics and special events. WCRC is open to both residents of Walnut Creek as well as non-residents as per its charter. Club membership, numbering over 800 tennis enthusiasts, is comprised of players of all ages and skill - all sharing a passion for the game.

I am asking you to help us out this year by purchasing a tax-deductible sponsorship for our annual Awards Banquet and Fundraising event. We work very hard to provide a significant contribution to a local youth tennis program each year and I hope we can count on you to purchase one of our sponsorship packages. However, please note that any donation amount is always welcomed.

If you require additional information about the Walnut Creek Racquet, please contact me and I will be happy to answer any questions you may have. You may also visit www.wcrc.net online or contact us via email at wcrc@astound.net.

The Walnut Creek Racquet Club annual Awards Banquet is January 20th, 2006, so if it is at all possible, please return the donation by January 10th. Thank you for your consideration.

We are asking that all contributions be sent by January 10th to the following address:

WCRC / Jennifer Scriabine

Thank you for your continued support.
